In a note accompanying the bill, Christie said he believes people are born gay and that homosexuality is not a sin. That view is inconsistent with his Catholic faith, which teaches that homosexual acts are sins. The Republican governor also said the health risks of trying to change a child's sexual orientation, as identified by the American Psychological Association, outweigh concerns over the government setting limits on parental choice.

MacCormick talks to Mike Melandro, Alabama State Director for Senior (55+) Community Service Employment Program which serves all 67 Alabama counties, including Walker County (Cordova). Melandro says he’s familiar with the research from The Sloan Center on Aging and Work at Boston College, which originated the paper on employment transitioning from full-time traditional to part-time. Melandro says that’s what his department is all about: helping mature workers find employment and volunteer opportunities which can evolve into paid employment. He gives his direct phone line and website for more information.

Matt Wyatt talked to retired Sargent Major of the Army Ken Preston. Mr. Preston is continuing to serve this country, and it's military men and women, through Homes for Our Troops, a national non-profit, non-partisan 501(c)(3) organization founded in 2004. They are strongly committed to helping those who have selflessly given to our country and have returned home with serious disabilities and injuries since September 11, 2001. It is their duty and our honor to assist severely injured Veterans and their immediate families by raising donations of money, building materials and professional labor and to coordinate the process of building a home that provides maximum freedom of movement and the ability to live more independently.
